

THE MOTHER EARTH COVENANT: COLLECTIVISM AND THE HEALING OF MOTHER EARTH

We have a dream, a vision of a time when there is enduring peace and global harmony amongst the People of the Earth, when everyone's needs are met and when resources are distributed equitably amongst all communities. We see a world in which the care people have for each other and for Mother Earth allows them to leave a legacy of a thriving planet for our children to enjoy for generations to come.

We, as a community, commit our energy and intent to the following:

1. To love, respect and care for our fellow women, men and children, who are the People of the Earth
2. To care for the minerals, plants and animals who share our fragile environment
3. To give thanks for the gifts provided to us by Mother Earth and to love, respect and care for our beautiful planet
4. To ensure, in all we do, that no harm be done and especially that our community be free of violence
5. To ensure, above all else, that nothing be done to harm the children
6. To cultivate our connectedness to all others and to actively work together with others for the best interests of the collective
7. To recognize that we live in a world of abundance and to work to ensure that all people get their fair share
8. To recognize and celebrate the diversity amongst the People of the Earth which strengthens our communities and enriches our life experience
9. To recognize and honour the balance of the masculine and feminine in everyone and to support the potential contribution by each of us to all aspects of our lives together
10. To recognize that we are all part of the same global village and that we rely on one another to keep the life force of the planet and its inhabitants alive and well and to think globally and act locally to heal the planet
11. To recognize that healing the planet begins with knowing and healing the self and to learn, as individuals, to hold our own self-worth, to feel unconditional love for the self and to live fully in each moment
12. To work for the light by striving to provide information, to share in lessons learned, to enhance our knowledge and understanding of the truth about the mysteries of life

We commit ourselves to these principles by looking inwardly for strength and outwardly for the inter-dependence and inter-reliance that are the keys to our connection to all things and to express ourselves through heart to heart communication so that we may contribute to the healing of the planet, our beautiful Mother Earth.
